Carl Manda, who severall days ago left his his appearance some time before the two clubs are slated to mingis. Infield of a Nagle, bought from the Brooklyn Robins, is another newcomer who should be in the apangles of the Tribe in time for the Sunday matines. When these two Chicks make their appearance there will be considerable shifting in the Tribe's batting order, for it will mean that two of the present infleiders will be relegated to the bench. Manda will play third base and Nagle will likely be placed at second. Conway will probably relieve Vincent Walsh in right field, while Cook will go to the bench. RED SMITH BADLY HURT.

RED SMITH BADLY HURT.

Red Smith, first string catcher of the Chicks, received an ugly injury in the first inning Friday, when the index finger on his throwing hand was bursted. Jonnard, Vol pitcher, was at bat, and the bail struck the finger squarely on the end, driving the bone far up into the hand.

Red went to the Baptist hospital, where the attending surgeon advised him to take gas or ether because of the pain that would ensue when the bones were replaced and placed in splints. But Red said it took more nerve to take gas than it did to stand the pain, so he gritted his teeth and the surgeon patched him up with only a local anesthetic.
